DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of species 1A, claims 1-3 and 11-15 in the reply filed on 6/23/05 is acknowledged. Claims 4-10 and 16-32 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 11-13, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chan. Fig. 1 of Chan shows a set of surgical instruments having all the limitations as recited in the above listed claims, including: a first instrument 22 with a channel 115; a second instrument 40; a foot 44 with a generally flat upper surface and a central channel 125. Note that the intended use recitations “for repairing a cartilage surface on a posterior surface of the patella” (ref. the preamble of claim 1), “configured to be flush with a posterior surface of the patella when the foot is pressed against the patella” (ref. claim 11), and “configured to be pressed against the posterior surface of the patella” (ref. claim 12) have been considered, but do not serve to structurally distinguish the claimed device over the applied reference. That is, the foot 44 of the Chan device is seen as inherently capable of being pressed against any bone surface, including the posterior surface of the patella.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 14 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
